BILL NUMBER: HB 1044

NOTE PREPARED: Mar 12, 2013

BILL AMENDED: Mar 11, 2013

SUBJECT: Public Safety Training on Alzheimer's and Dementia.

FIRST AUTHOR: Rep. Friend

FIRST SPONSOR: Sen. Head

BILL STATUS: As Passed Senate

FUNDS AFFECTED: X GENERAL

IMPACT: State & Local

Summary of Legislation: Training on Alzheimer's and Dementia- The bill specifies that the Law Enforcement Academy must provide training regarding persons with Alzheimer's disease or related senile dementia.

In-Service Training On Alzheimer's and Missing Persons- The bill specifies that the Law Enforcement Academy must provide in-service training concerning interacting with Alzheimer's disease or related senile dementia and high-risk missing persons.

Effective Date: July 1, 2013.

Explanation of State Expenditures: Training on Alzheimer's and Dementia- The Indiana Law Enforcement (ILEA) and the Northwest Indiana Law Enforcement Academies (NWILEA) already have about one hour of Alzheimer's and senile dementia training in their basic course. There are some other sections that touch on this subject at other points of officer basic training. However, there would be additional costs to the ILEA and NWILEA if either academy had to modify their basic course in order to accommodate the requirements of the bill.

There are two ways additional training could be implemented. The ILEA and NWILEA could cut instruction in a nonmandated area of the basic training curriculum or implement additional instructional time which would incur additional cost. Additional costs to add the training time could include training development, including the possible payment of an Alzheimer's/dementia expert (if necessary), academy and law enforcement personnel time, and materials. The amount of expenditure required to implement additional course hours is unknown and would depend on further administrative action. The bill does not provide an appropriation to cover additional costs as they may arise. Therefore, the ILEA and NWILEA would have to implement any additional training necessary within existing resources.

(Revised) In-Service Training On Alzheimer's and Missing Persons- There may be minimal administrative impact to the ILEA to approve appropriate courses for Alzheimer's and high-risk missing persons in-service training.

Background Information- The ILEA received total appropriations of $4.08 M during FY 2013. General Fund appropriations totaled $1.86 M, and dedicated funds appropriations totaled $2.22 M. Currently, the ILEA does offer training in missing adults during the law enforcement basic course.

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: Training on Alzheimer's and Dementia- The requirements of the bill could impact the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Academy and other local law enforcement academies if the current basic training regimen had to be amended to comply with the bill. The impact of this provision is unknown and would depend on further administrative action taken by the Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department (IMPD) and other local law enforcement agencies with training academies.

(Revised) In-Service Training On Alzheimer's and Missing Persons- It is unknown if in-service training for Alzheimer's or high-risk missing persons is offered. If such training is not currently available, local law enforcement departments would likely see an increase in fee payments for their sworn officers to take additional in-service training with an acceptable venue offering the course. Some of the cost inputs to local departments could include consultation with experts on Alzheimer's high-risk missing persons to help with course development and/or possible need of a qualified instructor.

Background Information for Indianapolis Metropolitan Police Department and Academy- The city of Indianapolis adopted a budget appropriation for the IMPD totaling $193.3 M for CY 2012.

The IMPD Academy basic curriculum requires recruits to complete 932 hours of training during a 24-week period. Basic recruits receive 76 total hours of training in human behavior.
